Description of Community based Teaching- Learning activities.

• Description of internship training in allopathic Hospitals -

Institute provides internship training for six months in 1) Yashwantrao Chavan Memorial Hospital, Pimpri, Pune 2) Rural, District and general government hospitals 3) Primary Health Centres. Residential facilities are provided in these hospitals. Usually these hospitals are in Pune District but according to the request of the interns, internship training in allopathic hospitals can be allowed at their native place in the other districts also.

• Other activities

- Our institute regularly organizes camps in rural and urban areas of PCMC with consultants and UG students and PG scholars providing health check-up with basic investigations and treatment.
- Community awareness programs are organised by the institution through public lectures, talks and information display, demo and role plays in the various exhibitions arranged for society.
- Aayusamvad (my health my responsibility drive) was one of the largest community awareness program conducted in COVID 19 pandemic and spread knowledge of Ayurveda healthcare system to the society. All teachers and PG scholars had played important role to generate interest to adopt Ayurveda lifestyle and treatment for maintenance of health and for cure of diseases.
- Our teachers and PG scholars conduct school health check-up programs every year for schools and colleges of our mother institute and introduce Ayurveda health care system to them.
- Our NSS conducts various community based teaching learning activities in the society like pulse polio and other health drives, environment and social awareness programs etc. with the help of NSS volunteers.
